

A TRIBUTE TO THE COUNTRY LEGENDS

Known in the business as the ultimate singer's singer the highest accolade any vocalist can receive on the cabaret circuit. Blakeston is without doubt considered to be one of the top vocalists on the entertainment scene today.

He displays a superb talent for vocal mimicry as an enhancement to any number that he performs. Undoubtedly talented, he plays several instruments, runs his own successful recording studio, sings in any style, and writes his band parts as well. When it comes to sheer experience, Blakeston must rank well from any point of view. 34 years in show business as a professional, playing Top Cabaret venues home and abroad.

You will be astounded by his vocal range. the sincerity and emotion his voice projects, he has the ability to touch people, "a real gift",

First started in the business as a John Denver tribute which had rave reviews, with sell out concerts all over Britain and Europe. Known then as Steve Denver and his band Eagles Mountain.

As the years went by and the country scene almost diminished he changed his style.

Seeking a vocal challenge he found it in the Swing era, where he became well known and respected for his precise laid back style, wowing audiences where ever he performed.

After many years away from country music he is back to his roots again, donning his Guitar and entralling his Audiences with his unique, rich, captivating voice.
