

BLAKESTON TYLER

Songs from: Sinatra- Nat King Cole- Matt Monroe-Dean Martin- Nat King Cole – Neil Diamond. And many more.

Known in the business as the ultimate singer's singer the highest accolade any vocalist can receive on the cabaret circuit today. Blakeston is without doubt considered to be one of the top vocalists on the entertainment scene.

He displays a superb talent for vocal mimicry as an enhancement to, any number that he performs. Undoubtedly talented, he plays several instruments, runs his own successful recording studio, sings in any style, and writes his band parts as well.

When it comes to sheer experience, Blakeston must rank well from any point of view.

28 years in show business as a professional, playing Top Cabaret venues home and abroad.

A Selection of T.V. And Radio Appearances To His Credit.

Holland, Belgium ZDF TV Germany,
BBC 1 (Spy ship), BBC 1 (Crossfire)
BBC Radio 2, Voted BBC Radio Humberside Top Male Vocal 1985 & 1986
The Robie Award 1986 & 1987, Hull & District Club land Award 1986/88
The Northern Club lands Male Vocal 1987 & 1989
Blackpool Command Top Vocalist of the year 1996
Preston Command Top Vocalist of the year 1996

Awards

BBC Radio Humberside Top Male Vocal 1985 & 1986
The Robbie Award 1986 & 1987,
Hull & District Club land Award 1986/88
The Northern Club land Male Vocal 1987 & 1989
Blackpool Command Top Male Vocalist of the year 1996/1997
Preston Command Top Vocalist of the year 1996

Quotes from The Stage and Television Today

Come back soon	Blakeston's a winner	I'm taking the wife
Blakeston Tyler was exceptionally well received. His great voice, and talent was like a breath of fresh air, his diction was clear and precise, an unusual thing to be found these days, with amplifiers blaring in your lugholes. An instant success with his laid back style, magnificent voice and handsome appearance. A cross between Frank Sinatra and Matt Monroe, I can say that I enjoyed a very relaxing evening, Come back soon	One man I went to see at Blackpool this summer was Blakeston Tyler, he opened his first spot with "September morn", and you could hear a pin drop. Every female's eyes old and young were transfixed on Blakeston. I must admit that to my surprise, I found myself very relaxed with his stage presence; he was at ease with everyone. In a change of mood his big band sound hit out some classy Frank Sinatra hits. Not everyone can put over Sinatra songs and swing into the bargain but this man did. "Keep on swinging Blakeston"	Dynamic from the word go, at the Central Club Blackpool Blakeston Tyler combined style and quality of music in an expressive presentation, which owed little to anyone else. I've been looking forward to seeing him for some time but he always seems to be abroad somewhere. Well I can tell you he did not disappoint me, next time I'm taking the wife. Final word from me "Brilliant"

From the beginning of 1976 he has played venues up and down Great Britain from the workingmen's clubs of Newcastle to the London Hilton hotel, and worked this summer at The Rainbow Rooms, Isle of Man. He also appeared on BBC television, and has recently completed a short cabaret season on The Sea Princess (The Love Boat).

THE SINATRA YEARS

With the voice of Blakeston Tyler

Some Review Comments

"This is a smashing warm-hearted show and not one to be missed" - Mavis Cole, Encore Magazine

"An absolute pleasure...extremely stylish" - Jan Whitehead, The Stage

"Packed with aficionados of all ages to see this lively, intimate show"- John Thaxter, The Stage

"This was a truly wonderful night"- Jo Francis, Gazette Newspapers

"Sensational Sinatra show...top quality musicians"- The Stage & Television Today

THE RAT PACK

A truly unique tribute to Sinatra and the special guests he invited to join him in during the Rat Packs Nights at the Sand Hotel Las Vegas. Including Special Guests: Matt Munro & Nat King Cole

Some Review Comments

"Blakeston Tyler injecting bucket loads of class and personality"- Jeremy Ridge, The West Briton

"never a dud moment from first to last - now that's entertainment" - Marion Cox, Dorset Echo

"Quality like this deserves to have the house packed to the rafters. and that's how it was.. a wonderful evening's entertainment by a top quality performer"- Giles Carr, Yorkshire Evening News.